Position Summary:

The School of Public Administration (SPA) at Florida Atlantic University (FAU) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in Public Finance, preferably with a specialty in public health, to start Fall 2023. Candidates should have an active research agenda contributing to the field of public finance, preferably with a focus on public health, healthcare policy, healthcare infrastructure, or public health disparities and management. Candidates should be able to teach in our Bachelor of Public Management, Master of Public Administration, and Ph.D. program in public budgeting and finance and the following areas: public administration/public policy, and quantitative and/or qualitative research methods.

Successful candidates can join FAU's exciting emerging initiative, FAU Health. They may have the opportunity to join an existing community of scholars through the Institute for Human and Disease Intervention (I-Health, <https://www.fau.edu/i-health/> ). I-Health is a university-wide research pillar that focuses on redesigning the health care infrastructure to create novel intervention programs. In addition to developing clinical trials and conducting clinical and translational research, I-Health focuses on teaching and training generations of health care professionals to meet South Florida's diverse needs.

Florida Atlantic University is a multi-campus, doctoral research university (RU/High research activity) with approximately 30,000 students. SPA is housed in the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters. SPA provides intellectual, analytical, technical, and practical education to advance the state of knowledge in public administration and public policy and to enhance ethical and other public service values within its service region. In the School of Public Administration Diversity and Inclusion are core values. We believe that the educational environment is enhanced when diverse groups of people with diverse ideas come together to learn. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a demonstrated commitment to diversity of thought in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply.

Based at FAU's main campus in Boca Raton, SPA is ranked one of the top 100 public affairs programs in the nation (U.S. News and World Report rankings). It is home to a Ph.D. in Public Administration, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA), a Master of Nonprofit Management (MNM), and undergraduate programs in Public Safety Administration (BPSA) and Public Management (BPM). For additional information about the SPA, please visit <https://www.fau.edu/artsandletters/public-administration/>
